

and we are developing . . .

according to the vedas, nature is made up of the five basic elements - earth, fire, water, space and air.

It also discloses how a balance of these five elements in our habitat leads to harmonious living.

With the inception of Nature,
we have set out on a journey to apply this ancient wisdom to our contemporary living and lifestyle.

Architect & Landscape designer:

MARVEL THE GOOD EARTH!

A great design not just fascinates, it transforms!
A well laid plan should just be an extension of you.
THE GOOD EARTH is all set to develop as a green belt. Master plan has been laid out by eminent architect HIREN PATEL (HPA), with a stress on mixed plotting scheme.

The strategy eliminates the discrepancy in value and pricing, ascertaining more security for the residents. A unique approach of growing complementary plants, according to the plot sizes has been introduced to encourage green living.
